The EO has asked the more experienced sailor below with VHF radio communication, to accompany the less experienced member each in their own boats, throughout the event. The experienced sailor will inform the EO if the less experienced member should or should not be able to continue in the event. If the EO decides the member should take no further part, the less experienced member will follow the EO instructions and be escorted to a place of safety (for example back to the launch slipway at the Dinghy Park.)
