

Blakeney Sailing Club Social Media Policy

The following policy, rules and guidelines apply to all users of Blakeney Sailing Club (BSC) social media. While the activities of the Club are recreational in nature, there is a responsibility on both the Club and its members to ensure social media services are used in an appropriate and controlled manner.

Monitoring

Although it is not the policy of BSC to monitor social media services, BSC reserves the right, but not the duty, to monitor social media for the purposes of ensuring adherence to this policy. Club members involved in the monitoring of social media are obliged to keep all details of the monitoring process confidential.

BSC is responsible for the following:

The management and administration of all official BSC social media services. This includes for example (but is not limited to) the Club website, Facebook, Twitter and official WhatsApp groups used by the club.

Ensuring administrator level access to social media services is managed appropriately to ensure effective management.

Informing all users of BSC's social media services of this Social Media Policy.

BSC reserves the right to withdraw access to its official social media services where due care is not taken regarding the use of such services and / or systems by users. This may also result in the user(s) being subject to disciplinary action by the Club.

BSC is obliged to keep abreast of any legal or legislative changes made in relation to the usage of social media and will modify its Social Media Policy as appropriate.

BSC reserves the right to restrict the sending and receiving of certain types of files and/or file attachments using social media. This is to ensure that BSC is not in breach of any copyright laws, protects staff and members from content that is unlawful, indecent or immoral.

Member Guidance on the Use of Online Social Media

Whenever using the official online social media services relating to BSC, members attention is drawn to the following usage guidelines:

Use of official BSC social media services is bound by this policy.

You are responsible for your actions and activities on social media. Any activities you undertake that could have a negative impact on BSC, its members, employees or third

Approved by BSC committee March 2021
Review period: 3 years

parties will ultimately be your responsibility and may be subject to withdrawal of access to social media services and / or disciplinary action by the Club.

Users using official BSC social media services will not use profane, abusive, derogatory or obscene remarks in any communications about fellow members, club employees or members of the public.

Users will not store or send fraudulent, harassing, embarrassing, indecent, profane, obscene, pornographic, intimidating or other unlawful material on official BSC social media.

All users shall use “common sense” whenever posting material onto social media. It is important that any material posted is not inflammatory, biased against any minority, sexist, breaches copyright, or in any way could be deemed to be offensive.

All users of official BSC social media services shall not publish any views or opinions on behalf of BSC, unless they are in a role which has explicit authority to do so.

Users will not attempt to disable or circumvent any security controls or procedures implemented by the administrators of the Club’s official of social media services.

Remember never to disclose confidential information related to BSC, its members, employees or third parties through social media.

If you come across negative posts on social media regarding BSC do not respond to them. Instead alert the administrator of your service or any member of the Club’s committee to the issue and an appropriate response from BSC will then be made.

Be mindful that when using social media, you are in a public environment and you should exercise caution when mixing your business and personal activities. Information posted on the Internet and to social media is permanent and can be copied and / or forwarded to others outside of your control.

Before engaging with individuals, you should, if possible, verify the authenticity of their online persona. Even then you should remain cautious about divulging or discussing any sensitive information on public forums.

Should, through your association with BSC, 3rd parties contact you regarding any queries regarding BSC you should politely decline to deal with them and direct them to the official communication channels of the Club.
